NORTHSTAR COMMERCE

Company Profile & Customer Guide

KNOWLEDGE BASE DOCUMENT
Company overview, shopping, payment, shipping, returns, refunds, privacy and assistant guidance.

Document purpose

This document is fictional sample content created for testing a retrieval-augmented generation (RAG) application. Northstar Commerce is not a real retailer. Review and replace all demo information before using this material in a real business.

1. Company Overview

Northstar Commerce is a fictional online retailer offering everyday clothing, electronics, footwear and accessories. The demo store is designed around clear product information, convenient browsing and straightforward support.

Mission and service promise

Our mission is to make useful everyday products easy to discover and purchase through a clear, dependable online shopping experience. The store aims to provide accurate information, explain limitations honestly and help customers understand the next step when an issue needs human review.

Service principles

- Use current database records for prices, stock and order status.
- Explain policies in plain language and do not invent exceptions.
- Protect personal information and verify identity before disclosing order-specific details.
- Escalate disputed, unusual or unclear cases to a support representative.
- Distinguish estimates from guarantees, especially for shipping and refunds.

2. Store Departments and Shopping Journey

The store catalogue includes clothing, electronics, footwear and accessories. Customers can search by product name or category, review descriptive information, and submit an order through the checkout process.

Typical shopping journey

- Browse or search the catalogue.
- Review product details, price, availability and any relevant size or compatibility information.
- Add available items to the cart and confirm delivery details at checkout.
- Choose a payment method offered for the customer's region.
- Review the order confirmation and retain the order reference for future support.

An AI assistant can explain this journey, but it should not claim that an order was placed, cancelled or changed unless the relevant application operation confirms success.

3. Ordering and Payment

Order confirmation

An order confirmation should provide an order reference, the items ordered, quantities, the amount charged or due, and the delivery details supplied at checkout. If a customer cannot find a confirmation, the assistant should direct them to an authorized support channel.

Illustrative payment options

- Cash on delivery may be available where enabled for a supported delivery area.
- Card or digital payment may be offered through the store's configured payment provider.
- Available methods and any payment fees must be confirmed at checkout.
- Never request full card numbers, security codes, passwords or one-time verification codes in chat.

Payment processing is not implemented by this demo knowledge document. The assistant must not imply that it can accept or process payment details.

4. Shipping and Delivery

Illustrative delivery estimates

Standard delivery is estimated at 3–5 business days after dispatch for supported domestic destinations. Remote areas, public holidays, weather events and carrier delays can extend delivery times. This estimate is not a guaranteed arrival date.

Tracking and delivery questions

- Use the order record or authorized tracking integration for an individual order's current status.
- Confirm delivery coverage and fees at checkout.
- Do not fabricate tracking numbers or claim a parcel has shipped without a verified status.
- If tracking has not updated for an unusually long period, direct the customer to support.

Express delivery, same-day delivery and international shipping are not confirmed features of this demo store. Do not promise them without verified operational information.

5. Returns and Eligibility

Return window

Customers may request a return within 7 days of receiving an order under this illustrative policy. The request should include an order reference and a brief reason for the return.

Condition and exclusions

- Items should be unused and returned in their original packaging.
- Items damaged through customer misuse may not qualify.
- Personal-care products and customized items are non-returnable unless damaged or defective.
- Eligibility may require review of the item, order date and reason.
- Submitting a request does not guarantee approval.

The assistant should not promise a return approval until the applicable order and item have been reviewed according to the store's process.

6. Refunds and Cancellations

Refund processing

After a returned item is received and inspected, an approved refund is processed within 5–7 business days. The time for the funds to appear may depend on the original payment method and payment provider.

Cancellations and changes

- A cancellation or address change may be possible before dispatch.
- After dispatch, an order may no longer be cancellable or editable.
- Do not state that a cancellation or refund is complete unless the relevant system confirms it.
- Explain the next step if the request needs staff approval.

7. Customer Support and Privacy

Demo contact channel: support@northstar.example. This is a reserved example address and is not a functioning support mailbox. Replace it with a verified company channel before deployment.

Safe handling of customer information

- Only disclose order details after the application verifies the customer's identity and authorization.
- Customers must not be able to retrieve another customer's address, email, orders or purchase history.
- Employees should access customer data only when authorized for their role.
- Collect only the information needed to resolve the request.
- Do not place sensitive personal or payment information into vector-store documents.

8. Guidance for the RAG Assistant

Source-of-truth rules

- Use this PDF for general company, delivery, returns and refund policy questions.
- Use PostgreSQL for current product prices, stock quantities, customer records and order status.
- If a question asks for information absent from the retrieved passages, state that the document does not specify it.
- If documents conflict, do not silently choose an answer; identify the uncertainty and request human review.
- Provide source filenames or page references where the application supports citations.

This document is fictional demo content. Policy values such as the 7-day return window and 5–7 business day refund processing are examples for testing, not legal advice or verified business commitments.

Demo content only. Confirm all claims, contact details, terms and specifications before real-world use.